

Backache and Kidneys

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate in the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache.

You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things.

The latest and most effective means of overcoming this trouble is to eat sparingly of meat, drink plenty of water between meals and take a single Anuric tablet before each meal for a week.

Simply ask your druggist for Anuric (anti-uric acid) if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin immediately this treatment with Anuric.

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Marquis, Tenn.—"Dr. Pierce's Anuric is the best medicine for kidneys and backache that I have ever taken. For some time my kidneys have been giving me a lot of trouble. I suffered with backache and rheumatism spread thru my joints and limbs causing me a lot of misery. On learning of the Anuric Tablets I began their use and they have given me real relief when other kidney medicines had failed to help."

—MRS. E. C. WILSON, 600 N. 6th St., Memphis, Tenn.—"Ever since I had typhoid fever my kidneys and bladder have caused me great deal of suffering and inconvenience. I have used various advertised kidney remedies but until I took Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets I could get only temporary relief. I can truthfully say that Anuric has given me more relief than anything I have ever taken."—MRS. EVA GATES, 923 Thomas St.

Possible Explanation.

Harry and Evelyn were neighbors and both members of our Sunday school. Evelyn was always clean and trim looking, while Harry was the despair of his mother.

One day when he had an unusual amount of mud on him his mother asked: "Harry, why is it that you are always dirty and Evelyn always right with you and yet she is always clean?"

Harry replied: "Well, I don't know, unless it's because boys were made out of dirt and girls were made out of nice clean bone!"

After a Long Pause.
When I was in the army I was commissary clerk for one of the big posts. One of the girls working there, too, was an especially good friend of mine and used to call me up every once in a while for a chat. One morning I answered the phone and thought I recognized her voice.

"Do you keep dates?" she said.

"Well," I answered in a bantering tone, "I don't know." Then I waited to see what she was going to suggest, but there was a long pause. Then the voice continued, lily:

"This is Mrs. X. Y. Z., the wife of the commanding officer, and I want to know whether you have dates in stock."—Exchange.

EX-KINGS EYE DANUBE STATES

Federation Is Formed on Paper by Plotters in Switzerland.

DETAILS ARE NOT COMPLETE

Exiled Rulers, Seeing the Hopelessness of Their Cause, Now Center All Their Plotting on One Great Scheme.

Berne, Switzerland.—From "the playground of Europe" before the war, Switzerland has become "the plotting ground of Europe" after the war.

And all of this plotting may now be summarized in one general end of "the constitution of a Danubian confederation."

To the credit of the Swiss it must be said they resent in the extreme the degree of abuse that is now being made of their country and their hospitality by the exiled rulers and statesmen of erstwhile empires and states, but they are as helpless in the matter as they are innocent.

Keeps Everybody Busy.
While they cannot keep their little country from being converted into an incubator, however, they run at least try to keep the plots being brooded therein from actually hatching, and the Swiss secret service, together with its gendarmes, its policemen, its detectives and its public officials generally, are putting in quite a few sleepless nights to this end.

Now that the gradual readjustment of Europe has left no doubts in the minds of certain exiled rulers, like King Constantine of Greece and some of the former rulers of German states, of the hopelessness of their cause, all of the plotting in Switzerland has come slowly to center on one great scheme, a scheme that is not only considered possible, but that is considered by many of the great minds and authorities of Europe as being absolutely imperative and inevitable.

This is the constitution of a Danubian federation to replace the old dual monarchy, and which, according to its backers, is the only thing that can insure the life of the half-dozen or more states into which the old Austro-Hungarian monarchy has been divided.

Vital and Imperative.

Whether this Danubian federation has its center north of the Danube with what is left of Hungary and Austria as a basis or whether it has its center south of the Danube with Serbia and Roumania playing the leading role; whether it be monarchic or republican in form, together with half a dozen other possibilities or ramifications, are generally considered unimportant. All that is regarded as vital and imperative is that such a confederation be constituted and that it be organized in full harmony with and support of the allies.

Hungary and German Austria, as they will exist when the peace conference finishes its work, will be dead states—their own people and statesmen admit that. Poland and Czechoslovakia are merely quivering bows. But Serbia and Roumania are considered as the two big future bets of south central Europe.

On the other hand, there are just as many supporters and just as many plotters in Switzerland who would like to see Vienna regain some of its past glory as the center of the new Danubian confederation. Budapest is equally well represented, while there are plenty of others who can demonstrate from a dozen standpoints, why Warsaw is inevitably destined as the future great center of middle European life.

CROP VALUES TRIPLED

Production for Year 1919 Broke All Records.

Worth Almost Three Times as Much as Average for Five-Year Period.

Washington.—The value of crops produced in the United States this year is nearly three times greater than the average annual value during the five years preceding the outbreak of the European war, according to the report of the secretary of agriculture. "On the basis of prices that have recently prevailed," says secretary, "the total value of all crops produced in 1919 is $15,878,000,000, compared with $14,222,000,000 for 1918; $13,475,000,000 for 1917; $9,054,000,000 for 1916; $8,112,000,000 for 1915; and $5,820,000,000 for the five-year average, 1914-1914. These values represent gross production and

LOST GOLD MINE IS FOUND

Object of Twenty Years' Fruitless Search at Last Has Been Rediscovered.

Spokane, Wash.—The "lost" gold mine of the upper Salmon river district of Idaho, source for years of mysterious wealth for its original discoverers and cause of the death of one of them, and the object of a 20 years' fruitless search by their "legions," has been rediscovered, according to a report reaching here.

For many years two prospectors, Hughes and Swan, went every spring on a mysterious journey into the hills of central Idaho, and every fall returned with quantities of raw gold, which made them the envy of every miner to whose ears word of their great good fortune had come.

Then one fall Hughes fell sick, and Swan, his partner, was waylaid and robbed of his summer's toil in the hidden mine and murdered. Hughes died at length in poverty in this city. The mine has been located, according to a report from Lewistown, Idaho, by two Johnson brothers of that city. It is declared to be on a tributary canyon of Ramsey creek in the upper Salmon river district of central Idaho. The ledge proper is declared to be from four to six feet wide, with a rich streak of quartz, in which the gold is easily visible to the naked eye, four to six inches in width.

UNIQUE CEMETERY TEACHES LESSON

Exhibit at Montana State Fair Sent People Away Thinking.

EPITAPHS DRIVE HOME TRUTH

Greater Convenience and a Larger Measure of Comfort in the Farm Home the Big Lesson Conveyed by Miniature Graveyard.

Washington.—It was a neat little country cemetery, much like most little country cemeteries, yet there was something queer about it. There was the arched gateway and the customary weeping willows by it. The clipped hedge was like most cemetery hedges. The tombstones were about the average run of tombstones. But, withal, there was something queer—even shocking. Then you discovered what it was. These were truthful tombstones. Consoling platitudes—"Too pure for earth," and that like—found no place. Instead, there were such epitaphs as these: "Mother—walked to death in her kitchen!" "Sacred to the memory of Jane—she scrubbed herself into eternity!" "Grandma—washed herself away!" "Susie—swept out of life with too heavy a broom."

The people who saw that cemetery—and there were thousands of them—may have been shocked for the instant, but they came away with the thought that one might be better for seeing such a cemetery. For, you see, it is a miniature cemetery, three feet square, and it was part of an exhibit at the Montana state fair. Such levity with the most solemn thing that mankind knows could not be justified merely on the theory that the things said were true—but those who saw it came away with the belief that it was justified by way of keeping just those things from being true. And that was the purpose of the exhibit, placed there by the agricultural extension department of the State Agricultural college of Montana. It was meant to emphasize the need for home conveniences, for lack of which many a farm woman has gone to her grave before her time.

Drive Truth Home.

There were other exhibits designed to drive home the same hard truth. One was a model showing a bleak farmhouse on a bare hill. At the bottom of the hill ran a little stream, and by the stream were barns and cattle. Struggling up the hill toward the house with two heavy pails of water was a bent old woman. And the legend was: "Convenient for the cattle—but not for mother." Then there was a farmhouse with the water supply as it should be, the woman in the yard sprinkling her flower beds with a hose. And the inscription read: "Convenient for mother—and the cattle, too." Another model showed a kitchen as it should be, and another, a kitchen as it should not be. And there was the legend: "A long-distance kitchen shor life."

The lesson taught by the exhibit is one that the state agricultural colleges and the United States department of agriculture are trying to teach by every means at their command—greater convenience and a larger measure of comfort in the farm home.

Don't look for any escalator to do your climbing for you.

Funeral Held for Cat.

Pet of New York Woman

Lenox, Mass.—Funeral rites over a cat here were attended by all the employees on the summer estate of Mrs. Carlos de Herold of New York, and the feline's "remains" were buried on the estate in a metal casket. Hynelth, a Persian cat, said to have cost $8,000, was greatly treasured by Mrs. de Herold, and when it died at her home in New York the owner had the body borne here in a special automobile truck.

not net returns to the producer. The value of live stock on farms in 1919 was $8,800,000,000, compared with $8,250,000,000 in 1918; $7,700,000,000 in 1917; $7,200,000,000 in 1916; $6,700,000,000 in 1915; and $6,200,000,000 for the five-year average, 1914-1914.

"This increased financial showing, it is again necessary to emphasize, does not mean that the nation is better off to that extent or that its real wealth has advanced in that proportion. Considering merely the domestic relations, the true state is indicated rather in terms of real commodities, comparative statements of which are given in foregoing tables. The increased values, however, do reveal that the monetary returns to the farmers have increased proportionately with those of other groups of producers in the nation, and that their purchasing power has kept pace in the rising scale of prices."

Prehistoric Tree Trunk Found in Iron Mine

St. Paul, Minn.—Discovery has just been made in the Holman iron mine, near Taconite, Itasca county, Minnesota, not far from the source of the Mississippi river, of a prehistoric tree trunk in an excellent state of preservation and with pine cones about it.

The tree is not petrified. The wood is as sound in the main as though it had been felled only a few years ago and the pine cones are still pliable. The wood with exposure to air has not softened or crumbled, and the find is the first of its kind on record so far as geologists of the great trunk ranges can learn.

"A searchlight," replied Pete.

"What are you looking for?"

"Morning," he said.

"Stick around awhile and I'll dawn upon you," suggested Sam, and they parted.—American Legion Weekly.

Sad News.

"Poor Godspur! His hands trembled when he opened that telegram from his wife."

"That showed genuine feeling. He probably feared she was ill or hurt in an accident."

"No. It was what he suspected, an urgent request for money coming as the finishing blow, just after he'd dropped $800 in a poker game. You know, the average married man simply can't understand why his wife has to have $50 or $60 at a time like that."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Their Opinion.

"My friend," began the party with the overhanging brow, "how do the farmers of your region feel toward the proletariat?"

"Well," frankly replied the gent from Jimpson Junction, "such of 'em as have took it, that I've heard express themselves, admit that it hasn't no better for the rheumatism than a buckeye in the britches pocket."—Kansas City Star.

Chinese More Than Match for Locusts

A swarm of small green locusts appeared at the village of Pailin, two and one-half miles south of Tientsin, the afternoon of September 9, settling on the grain fields between there and the race course. The peasants made great efforts to beat them off and save their crops, at the same time gathering basketsful and sending them into the native city for sale. By evening they were being hawked all over the Chinese districts.—North China Herald.
